DOLLIVER THEIR DEFENDER

Democratic Applause Won by the Hoosier Statesman.

Weshington, Jan. 25 .- Not since the stirring days before the declaration of war last spring has the house witnessed such an exhibition of excitement and such scenes of unbounded enthusiasm as occurred today, when two Republicanz, Mr Johnson, an Indiana member, and Mr. oiliver of Iowa locked horns on the quertion of expansion. The army will, which the broader question of our future national policy and the debate was lifted from the dead level of mediocrity into absolute brilliancy. Mr. Johnson secured time from the Democratic side to attack the position of the administration. It was not the first time he has broken away from his party on public questions. On past occasions he has won a reputation as a master of invective, and the knows edge that he was to speak had attracted n enormous crowd to the galledes. . oday he added to his reputation. With sat ire, irony and wit, the eken thrusts of his logic were driven home. His words flowed in a perfect torrent. He denounced the proposition to annex the Philippines as subversive of every tradition dear to the American heart in the past, and an inauguration of that policy that would end in the downfall of the republic. He said the ratification of the treaty by the senate would sound the death knell of all the el forts of those who weer trying to prevent the country from rushing on to suicide and eclared that if he were a senutor he would not in his seat before it should be atified. He denounced the president as the slavish follower of public opinion. out warned him that the tide would reede and the voice of the people would in ime rebuck him. Members stood in the alsie ten deep while he was speaking, but he tried to stop the applause which continually broke out from the Democratic side. When he had finished Mr. Dollive came to the defense of the administration One of the absest debaters and perhaps the most cloquent members of the house, his reply set the Republicans wild with athusiam He described low the presi dent had been fairly driven into war by se who now sought to embarrass him ebfore peace was definitely obtained, and his eulogy of the president patiently meetng all the perplexing problems which beset him as the great events of the year moved on, aroused his side and the agieries to cheers.
